With reference to the 2d Councillor's query as to whether there was a Devarapuje man in the Govt Chattrams at Sira and Sibi, ~~at a time~~ when feeding was in Vogue, it is respectfully submitted that in each of the chattrams above mentioned, there were 2 posts viz. "Naivedya Samarpane" and — "Gandhakasate", each carrying a monthly salary of Rs 1-3-0 They were abolished when the Rice ration system was introduced in 1895-

Is there any objection to a Smartha Brahmin doing the naivedya samarpane? Cannot a parpathegara or Cook do it in addition to his own work?

Muzrai Secretary's Remarks.

The Nyvedya Samarpane in all Govt Chatrams in the State is generally made by Madhwa Brahmins. This is in accordance with long established practice. The Parpattegar, if he is a Madhva, and the cook who is always a Madhva, may perhaps be asked to perform the Nyvedya Samarpane, but they will ask for more pay if this additional work is given to them.

In more than one instance, the late Dewan was pleased to remark that unconsecrated food should not be distributed in Govt Chatrams. Hence the last para of the draft in which it is proposed that a Madhva Brahmin may be employed to perform Devara Puje and Nyvedya Samarpane and be allowed to take a meal in the Chatram on the days on which he performs them. This does not actually increase the paid establishment.

Resubmitted to the II Councillor.

GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS
THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE

MUZRAI

PROCEEDINGS

ated 17th March 1906

No. 3957-64½
Muz. F. 23 of 1893

Directing the revival of feeding in all the Muzrai annachattrams in the State.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, Muzrai, dated 17th March 1906.

No. 3957-64, dated Bangalore, 17th March 1906.

Order —Complaints having been received against the introduction, some years ago, of the system of issuing raw rations in some of the Muzrai annachattrams in the State, where feeding was formerly conducted, the opinions of the Deputy Commissioners of the Chitaldrug, Bangalore, Mysore, Tumkur and Kolar Districts in which the raw ration chattrams were situated, were demi-officially called for, and they were at the same time requested to report how the system was working in their districts. From the replies received it is observed that in some of the chattrams in question, the system operates as a great hardship to travellers who generally prefer to have cooked food rather than rations as they cannot, during a temporary halt, command the necessary conveniences for cooking. It is also observed that a larger number can be fed within a given amount, if cooked food is distributed than if raw provisions are given. In these circumstances, all the Deputy Commissioners consulted are in favor of the revival of the old and time-honoured system of giving cooked food, which is more advantageous and fulfils the object with which such institutions were originally started. The Government concur in this opinion.

2. It is found that the raw ration system was introduced in sixteen chattrams by the late Muzrai Secretary, but that in two of them, viz, the chattrams at Nanjangud and Narasimha Teertha, near Mulbagal, feeding was recently ordered by Government to be revived. In the remaining fourteen chattrams also, which are noted in the margin, the Government are pleasd to direct that feeding be re-introduced so that there may be a uniform system of serving cooked rice to travellers in all the chattrams in the State.

3. The Deputy Commissioners of the Mysore, Tumkur, Bangalore and Chitaldrug Districts are requested to report at an early date on the existing establishments in the chattrams named in the above paragraph as well as on the small additional establishment, if any, that may be required for the revival of feeding. In recommending the entertainment of an additional establishment as above, due regard must be had to the existing tasdik allotment of each of the aforesaid chattrams.
